The aged band leader dropped in the

HOURS CUT DOWN LABORERS QUIT.
Cincinnati, Oct. 13.—The enforcement of the federal 8-hour law is blocking work on the new government locks and dam on the Ohio river at Fernbank, nine miles below the city. An indictment was recently returned by the federal grand jury charging the Sheridan-Kirs Contract Company with working its men over 8 hours a day on the new locks and dam in violation of the 8 hour law.
Two hundred of the company's men did not appear for duty today.

No sooner had the hours been cut down than the laborers began leaving the works and seeking employment elsewhere, claiming they could only make $1.60 a day, and elsewhere they could make more.

New York, Oct. 13.—A special cable dispatch to the Times from London says that the General Industrial Development syndicate, limited, which, according to the testimony given at Findlay, Ohio, in the Standard Oil investigation, is the owner of the Manhattan Oil company, is housed, with many other concerns, in the office of a firm of accountants, much as New Jersey corporations are housed in the office of a firm of lawyers in Jersey City. The company has only two officers, neither of whom could be found.
Acquaintances of these men said, however, that it was understood that the company was an American concern.

Saudusky, O., Oct. 13.—The 12 men on the stranded steamer State of Ohio have decided to stay by the vessel, although the sea has subsided enough to permit them to come ashore if they desire to do so.

Two men came ashore and said the sailors they have no dry beds to sleep in and the snow and sleet have caused much distress.

The vessel is in bad condition and all efforts to save her may be abandoned.

The schooner May Richards, who went ashore at middle bass island in the recent storm is being stripped and will be abandoned. The Cobb may be hoated if the weather remains fair.

an order forbidding officials and employes of the court to rent rooms or otherwise shelter any persons with-ister.

The order is due to the arrests of ery that many of the participants in the conspiracy were living unsuspect-

Joan M. Ceballos Talks For First Time, of His Failure.

CAUSED BY SILVERIA.

Head of Bankrupt Firm Thinks Venezuela Defaulters's Goal.

First Intimation of Failure Came Through Letter From Thief.

By Associated Press.
New York, Oct. 13.—For the first time since the announcement of failure Joan M. Ceballos, senior member of the firm of J. M. Ceballos and company, broke his silence regarding Silveria and the failure. Of Silveria, he said:

"All he was in the world I made him. I trusted him and he betrayed my confidence."

Story Denied.
Mr. Ceballos denied the story circulated that the firm had bought warrants for claims in the last Cuban war from six to ten cents on the dollar.
He said that all he had purchased from Silveria, he had paid eighty, eighty-five and ninety-five cents on the dollar for.

Mr. Ceballos gave his opinion that Silveria was in Venezuela or on his way to that country.

Silveria's Letter.

The first intimation of the trouble led to an investigation and the consequent assignment of J. M. Ceballos & company came through a letter which Silveria wrote to his friends in the Cuban capital according to information given out here. It is said Silveria left the letter with friends of his in Havana, saying frankly that he did not intend to come to New York.
This letter was not made public until October 7th five days after Silveria and his family had sailed from Havana on the Steamer Carmelina. It was two days later, when it is said a cablegram containing the news came from Havana to the office of Ceballos' attorney here and one day elapsed before the cablegram was translated. In New York the news was closely guarded until after the stock exchange was closed and then the announcement was made in a formal statement.

Friends Say "No".

Havana, Oct. 13.—A rumor has been in circulation ever since the departure from Havana of Manuel Silveria, the fugitive Cuban banker, that he financed the late revolution, but Silveria's friends, likely to know the facts in the case do not believe the report. Nobody appears to have financed the revolution, with the exception of a very few leaders, like General Guaz, who spent their money for ammunition.

sued by the French cable company reads as follows:

"We deny the information printed in yesterday's papers concerning fresh ture reported by the French Cable

SHORT OF FUNDS.

New York, Oct. 13.—The republican state committee up to the present time has received only one tenth as much money in campaign contributions as in any year since 1891. This announcement was made by State Chairman Woodruff who said the shortage was due to the recent law forbidding corporations to contribute to campaign funds and that the situation which has resulted is so serious that something must be done at once.
He said that just now he is sending letters to republicans all over the state requesting financial aid for the campaign.

Half a Thousand Passengers in Immediate Danger of Destruction.

Steamers Adirondack and Saratoga Run Together in the Narrowest Chancel of the Hudson River, and Thereby Creating a Panic.

MEMBER OF SARATOGA'S CREW IS KILLED

Three Passengers of the Adirondack Suddenly Thrown Overboard in the Icy Waters of the River and Despite Diligent Search, But Two of Them Have Been Accounted For.

By Associated Press.
Kingston, N. Y., Oct. 13.—The night passenger steamer Adirondack of the People's Line of Albany, and Saratoga of the Citizens' Line, of Troy, collided near Glasgow, twelve miles north of the city at 1:15 o'clock this morning. Clarence Sherman of Melrose, an oiler on the Saratoga, was killed and Geo. Horton, of New York City, clerk on the Adirondack, is missing.

The collision occurred in a dense fog which prevented the pilots of either boat from seeing the other.
Both, it is thought, missed their bearings.

The Saratoga sustained the greater damage. The Adirondack was on her way to Albany and the Saratoga was en route to New York. The Adirondack tore off the port side of the Saratoga, which listed to port, and her boiler went overboard and sank.

Instantly Killed.
Sherman, an oiler, was killed instantly by flying timbers. An employe named Horton, on the Adirondack is supposed to have been knocked overboard and drowned.

Many passengers on the Saratoga were knocked down by the force of the collision, but the crews of both boats assisted in rescuing them and later they were transferred to the City of Troy, landed at Tivoli and sent to New York by train.

Panic Reigns.
The passengers on both boats became panic stricken, but were calmed by the crews and officers of the boats.
The Adirondack after the fog had cleared, was able to proceed to Albany.

The Saratoga listed to port and was hauled to Glasgow, where she anchored. Captain Brown of the Saratoga at once came to Kingston and arranged for wreckers to raise her wrecked boiler. The officers of the Saratoga say the wreck was unavoidable. Their boat had just passed an island south of Glasgow when

An Immense Fog rolling out of Sagorates creek, hid everything from view. The approaching Adirondack had been seen, but was completely hidden when the fog bank intervened between the two boats. Without warning the Adirondack's light suddenly loomed up in the fog and

The Crash Followed.
The state rooms of the port side of the Saratoga were crushed in. The boats, swung away immediately after the collision. The Saratoga listed and about a dozen occupants of the state rooms were thrown into the almost ice cold waters of the Hudson river.

During the confusion following the accident it was impossible to keep track of their number or who they were.

Second Pilot Ludwig of the Saratoga was steering his vessel. Captain Brown had been in charge, but left the pilot house to go below soon after passing Klugston.

The Saratoga has been towed to the east shore of the Hudson opposite Glasgow.

Captain Brown Nervous.
Captain Brown is extremely nervous and cannot give a connected account of the accident or what followed.

Saved From Drowning.
The steamer Ontonagon of the Catskill night line, came along soon after the accident and assisted in rescuing several passengers who had been thrown into the river.

Saratoga An Old Boat.
New York, Oct. 3.—The Saratoga is an old boat, having been built in 1877.
The vessel was 200 feet long, had accommodation for 500 passengers and was valued at $550,000.

The Saratoga has had several accidents. She is a companion boat of the City of Troy, and the two vessels have been making alternating trips between New York and Troy.

Worth a Million.
The Adirondack was launched in 1896 at a cost of $1,000,000 and is one of the fastest boats on the Hudson.
She is 413 feet long and has five decks, on one of which are 350 state rooms.
The boat is modern in all her apartments.

Horton Still Missing.
Albany, N. Y., Oct. 13.—The steamer Adirondack of the People's Line reached her dock in this city at 9:10 a. m. Two of the three members of the crew reported missing have been heard from and Geo. E. Horton, of Troy, freight clerk, is the only one unaccounted for. Captain Wilson of the Adirondack says that the boat was never in distress, and that despite the damage done it will leave for New York to-night on schedule time. The passengers on the Adirondack suffered mostly from fright and shock.

Graphic Account.
Albany, N. Y., Oct. 13.—In what was practically a head on collision on the Hudson river at 1:20 this morning between the steamer Adirondack of the People's Line and the Saratoga of the Citizens' line, one man an oiler of the Saratoga lost his life, 500 passengers had a thrilling experience, and both the steamers were damaged to the extent of thousands of dollars, the Saratoga being practically put out of commission. The missing man is Geo. L. Horton, of Troy, freight clerk on the Adirondack. The collision occurred near Tivoli, about 99 miles from New York at one of the narrowest part of the river, while both boats were feeling their ways through a dense fog which settled on the river just before 10 o'clock last night. The Saratoga, bound south from Troy, with about 200 passengers on board and a heavy consignment of freight, crashed into the Adiron dack bound north from New York. The collision tode away about 75 feet of the lower deck on the port side forward of the wheel of the Adirondack. The terrible impact caused the Saratoga, with one side of her lower deck almost shattered to rebound, and she now lies at anchor a few yards from where the collision took place.

Those of the passengers who were not awakened by impact were aroused from their slumbers by the cries of the crews on both boats. Fortunately help was at hand. The Ontona steamed alongside the Adirondack a few minutes after the crash and offered assistance. Captain Wilson, of the Adirondack, told the Ontona to stand by while he assured his passengers that there was no immediate dangers. He gave the passengers the alternative of staying aboard or being transferred to the shore by the propeller, and about 150 of them chose the latter course, later coming to Albany by train and leaving for western points.

From the stories told by the passengers and the captain of the Adirondack there was comparatively little excitement considering the seriousness of the accident.

The collision tore away that part of the lower deck in which were located the rooms of First Mate Deme-tory and Frank Flenagan, of New York and Geo. L. Horton, of Troy.
All three were thrown into the river.

AN EFFECTIVE MARABOUT SET.

Charming to a degree is this attractive set in the natural brown marabout, with its many little pendant fringe pieces tipped with white. For the requirements of the between-season weeks, when a wrap is all too at the ends. The smart little muff is a round, grubby shape in the dun-colored marabout, with a group of the fluffy tips used at one side, where they fall with graceful effect.

The chapeau that is depicted herewith is one of the most graceful and at the same time most practical models of the season. While not attaining to the extreme that marks so many of the later modes, it is still sufficiently novel to attract an admiring attention. The crown is a round bowl shape that sets comfortably to the size of the head and is covered in a soft shade of mole-brown velvet, a shade that is almost indescribable in its blendings of smoke-gray, yellow and brown. The French well term this tint fume de toit, or turf smoke. It being just that yellowish smoky tint that one sees when turf is burnt. The crown and the brim, the latter to within a few inches of its edge, are covered with the velvet. The brim is shallow on one side and front, while the other side rises abruptly, where fluffy ostrich plumes are draped, with an upstanding aigrette to give a note of character and emphasis. The crown is encircled with a wreath of velvet roses of a tone slightly darker than the velvet covering of the chapeau.

Mrs. Allan Knolly entertained the Matinee club this week, the substitutes being Mrs. E. M. Gooding, Mrs. W. B. Ritchie, Mrs. J. P. King, Mrs. C. T. Pope, Miss Edna Leonard, of Beaver, Penn., and Miss Larmont, who is the guest of Miss May Argue.

The bridesmaid, Miss Florence Schindewolf, wore white silk organdie, carrying pink flowers, and the maid of honor, Miss Anna Davis, wore a pretty frock of green net over silk. Mr. T. K. Minsker, of Altoona, Pennsylvania, acted as best man.

After congratulations had been extended, a three-course wedding supper was served at small tables, which were prettily decorated with pink and white carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Gibson left at two o'clock for a short wedding trip, and will be at home in Chillicothe, Ohio, after November 1st.

USE AND RECOMMEND

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

MISS MILDRED HOLLAND,

The charming and deservedly popular theatrical star, writes as follows:

"I am delighted with Newbro's Herpicide. It is just what I have been looking for. I find that it not only prevents dandruff, but that it stops the hair from falling out. It is a most delightful hair dressing, and no lady's toilet table is complete without it."

(Signed) MILDRED HOLLAND.

A woman to be pretty must have pretty hair. There is a subtle charm about beautiful hair that lends more to personal adornment than all of the skill of all of the "beauty doctors" combined. The hair need not be of extraordinary or abnormal length, but it must have that distinctiveness of appearance that comes from intelligent care, and is the result of perfect hair health.

The most cultured ladies in every community use Newbro's Herpicide; and when you see a head of hair that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life, it is a fairly good indication that Newbro's Herpicide has been used.

A common cause of dullness of the hair is the presence of fine dust and soot in the streets that is kept in constant motion by trolley cars, automobiles, etc. This fine dust—frequently laden with disease germs—adheres to the hair and dulls its natural luster.

A delightful way to cleanse and beautify the hair is to use Newbro's Herpicide and draw it carefully through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. It may be done daily, or less often, as desired.

The result of this cleansing process will prove a surprise not only in the amount of dirt removed, but in the added beauty of the hair and the sense of cleanliness and comfort that follows. Shampooing will also remove this dust, but too frequently washing of the hair is harmful.

Newbro's Herpicide is the Original remedy that "kills the dandruff germ." It eradicates dandruff and stops falling hair. It is the only real scalp prophylactic in existence. A delightful and refreshing hair dressing. Stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

AT RETAIL STORES.—Send 10c in stamps to THE HERPICIDE CO., Dept. L, Detroit, Mich., for sample.

The former steamer, around on which the freight until they were picked up. Horton has not been found.

After the collision the Saratoga drifted to shore.

Captain Wilson upon arrival of the Adirondack at Albany immediately got in telegraph communication with officials of the line in New York.

Afterwards he made the following statement:

"I was in my room when the crash came and I hurried to the pilot house after ordering the crew to stand by and man the boats. Finding everything all right at the wheel house, I went among the passengers and told them to remain calm as there was no immediate danger. I ascertained that while the boat was badly smashed on the port side she had not taken water and I again assured the passengers. There were 1,400 life preservers accessible to those who wanted them.

About 150 passengers were transferred to the tug Ontario, who offered us assistance. I ordered a boat lowered and sent some men back to look for the three members of the crew who were in the wrecked portion of the boat. There is no truth that some colored persons employed on the boat tried to keep the life preservers away from the passengers. They had been instructed frequently how to help the passengers adjust the preservers in case of an accident and their efforts in this direction during the small excitement may have been misunderstood.

We were in no danger at any time and I never saw passengers behave so well under the circumstances.

"Excellent judgment prevailed throughout. We did not go to the aid of the Saratoga as her sister boat, the City of Troy was directly in our wake.

"Despite the commission and the attendant damage the Adirondack running schedule will not be interfered with. She will leave for New York tonight."

At the offices of the Citizen's line in Troy, it was said that the City of Troy with the passengers of the Saratoga would arrive at 1 o'clock.

SOME MORE COSTLY RED TAPE.

(Portland Oregonian.)

The dry dock Deaver, a monumental illustration of the expensive folly of red tape methods and ignorant department officials, has commenced trouble near the Canary Islands. The broke apart from her keel and one of the latter was crippled before she was picked up. The government saved something over $12,000 by having the Deaver built on the Atlantic coast instead of at Seattle or San Francisco and will lose ever $50,000 in the additional cost of towing her to Manila. The fellow manipulators of red tape who bring about such wasteful expenditure of government funds as has been in evidence in connection with this dry dock would be proper subject for a government inquest.

heavy, and the gown worn without for Miss Minerva Musselman the comest seems more or less to complete the work for an outdoor appearance. The marriage of Miss Marietta B. so far has offered nothing that fits in so delightfully as does the feathered and feathery effects that are so modish at the moment.

The stole is one of those straight four-strands affairs, the strands connected at intervals by strain stitches, forming in a stout buttonhole twist, to fall in a cascade of white foamy-tipped tails. Helen Hudson sang "Oh, Promise Me," which was followed by the Lohengrin march, played by Miss Florence Schindewolf.

The bride was charmingly attired in white embroidered chiffon over silk, and carried a large bouquet of white roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Florence Schindewolf, wore white silk organdie, carrying pink flowers, and the maid of honor, Miss Anna Davis, wore a pretty frock of green net over silk.

Mr. T. K. Minsker, of Altoona, Pennsylvania, acted as best man.

After congratulations had been extended, a three-course wedding supper was served at small tables, which were prettily decorated with pink and white carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibson left at two o'clock for a short wedding trip, and will be at home in Chillicothe, Ohio, after November 1st.

The out-of-town guests were: Prof. Maglott, Mrs. Maglott, Donald Maglott, M. and Mrs. Rhonemus, Mrs. Gregg, Mrs. Ewing, Dr. and Mrs. Campbell, the Misses Schindewolf, Miss Hope Charles and Miss Rhea Welsh, of Ada; Mrs. Brockhart, of Celina; Mr. Church, Mrs. Captain Maxon, of Cincinnati; Mrs. Tyson and Mollie Tyson, of Kenton; Mr. E. Walsh's Start in Baseball.

The merest accident brought into professional baseball Ed. Walsh, the Chicago American League pitcher who scored the wonderful victory over the Chicago Nationals. Walsh was a coal miner near Wilkesbarre until four years ago. He had been playing with Frank Burke as catcher in games between the mining village teams. Burke heard that the Connecticut League was a cozy, substantial place to start. He tramped to Meridian and got a job as backstop.
He made good behind the bat and jumped to the front as the league's best batsman. One day Connie Danaher, the Meriden owner, said to him:
"Frank, who pitched to you down home?"

"O, a big fellow named Walsh," was the response. "He had lots of speed, but he was pretty wild and never was coached much."

"You telegraph him to come up here. I'll see that he's coached all right," said Danaher.

The message was sent to Walsh.
He reported the next day, getting off the train at Bridgeport. He struck out eleven of Jim O'Rourke's men and shunt out Bridgeport. He was, however, raw. It took all of the coaching Danaher's staff of clever pitchers could give him, and he pitched Meridian into second place in the league struggle.

The next year he went to Newark.
For two seasons he has been with Chicago. His old catcher joined the New York Nationals a month ago as outfielder; after leading the Connecticut league in batting and he will be with the Giants next season.

town in Tennessee, owns a puppy and a family of kittens, and one of the puppy's tricks is to bury a kitten in

Sentiment vs. Realism

(Original)

One morning in the sunny state of Louisiana a group of men were lounging on the porch of a plantation storing stories. Jean Benoit, a creole, had the floor. The French people are much given to rhapsody, and Benoit was no exception to the rule. A drummer from the north sat on the head of a barrel listening to the creole's tale.

"M'sieur Coquehard came from La Belle France with his son Adolphe and his ver' beautiful daughter Lucille.

When M'sieur Coquehard came to America his little girl was five year old, and she grew up with all the bravery of the true southern girl. She could ride and shoot and pull at the oar.

Mam'selle Lucille was ver' fine girl.

Her eye flash like lightning, her hair was black as the raven."

"Black cats is better to describe hair of that kind," interrupted the drummer.

"Her neck was like the swan."

"Just the kind for the new collar—the Bernhardt—just out," put in the drummer. "I've got samples in my trunk."

The story teller cast a glance at the Yankee, but, seeing no trace of any intent to poke fun, continued:

"One ver' fine morning Mam'selle Lucille was pulling her boat on the river, and coming to an opening in the canebrake where there was a ferry she got ashore to look for wild flowers. The first thing she saw beside the path was the dead body of her brother Adolphe with a dagger in his heart on the hit of which sparkled a ver' large and beautiful diamond. With a shriek she threw herself on the body, calling on her brother like the wail of a harp to speak to her.

"When this brave girl got more composed she tak' the body of Adolphe, put it in the boat and row to the plantation. At the landing she leave it, go to the stable and mount her milk white horse."

"Kain'rock' stock?" Inquired the drummer.

"Mam'selle ride away to avenge the murder of her brother," continued

Benoit, without noticing the query.

"How did she get her clew?"

"She know ver' well who kill

Adolphe. M'sieur Octave Monstot wish to marry her. She not wish to marry M'sieur Monstot, and her brother tell him to come no more to the house."

"Mam'selle Lucille ride straight to M'sieur Monstot's plantation. She rein in her horse before the gallery and driving a dagger from her bosom, call on M'sieur Monstot to come out and she will kill him. But his slaves tell her that their master have gone away that morning. They say he gone down the road, toward the city. She wheel her horse and follow like the wind."

"She'd ought to have had one of the new autos. They're better in the wind.

When the wind makes a hundred miles an hour, that's a hurricane. These autos do a hundred an hour with the chauffeur asleep."

The listeners cast a look of impatience at the drummer and the story teller continued:

"Mam'selle Lucille ride till the afternoon, when she come to a river. The ferryboat was just leaving and she was

MIDDIES BEATEN

BY TIGERS TODAY.

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 13.—The most important foot ball game of the season to be played by the middies except the annual contest with the West Point military cadets took place here this afternoon with the Princeton University eleven.

The conditions between the two eleven viewed from an unprejudiced standpoint, favor defeat for the mid-dshipmen by a small score. The weather is nearly perfect for foot ball and a big crowd is expected.

"It is certain that the gates will be closed and locked before time for the game to start. The New York polo grounds holds that honor. The number 24,995 the attendance at one of the games last year. I think we will be able to admit about 26,000 people here today judging from the way they are coming now."

Bleachers Packed.

Before 1:30 p. m., the bleachers encircling the entire field were packed to capacity. The seats on the infield were all taken and thousands were sitting on the grass up to the dead lines, marked by heavy cables. The grand stand proper had

and the only vacant seats to be seen anywhere were in the boxes. These are the only seats sold in advance and the holders were not compelled to come early.

When the teams came out on the field for practice all the players got the usual ovation. Mordcael Brown and Johnny Evers, of the Nationals, stars of yesterday's game, attracted the most attention.

Gates All Closed.

At 1:45 all gates were ordered closed. It is estimated that there were 5,000 people on the outside.

Some of these were offering $5, $10 and even $20 for admission.

A Crowd of 25,000.

President Murphy said there were at least 25,000 people in the grounds.

Fence Pushed Down.

The fence in front of the left field bleachers was broken down and the

licemen were forced to use their clubs to clear the crowd and force them beyond the foul line.

HOW THE "INTERESTS" WILL VOTE.
The liquor men of Ohio will vote for Curni A. Thompson, republican candidate for secretary of state, despite his declaration for county local option, which was forced from him by the mainly course of Samuel A.
Hoskins, the democratic candidate.
The liquor men will vote for Thompson in the hope that he will be elected to an office where he can no longer interfere with their plans. As speaker of the house Thompson was compelled to give recognition to the strong temperance sentiment prevailing during the days of the Pattison administration and his appointment of recognized temperance men to important committees caused him to be classed as an adherent of the Anti-Saloon League. Since that time the liquor interests have wished him well out of the way, and it is hinted in some quarters that Thompson's nomination for secretary of state was in part due to a demand made by the liquor men that he be "lifted" from the position of speaker of the house and placed where he could do no harm.
But however, that may be, the liquor men will vote for Thompson in order to get him out of the way and in the hope that the position of speaker may be given into the hands of one friendly to the liquor interests—one who will appoint committees pledged to recommend bills proposed by the liquor lobby.
Don't you see how it works—how the republican bosses have "lifted" a "dangerous man to the interests" and placed him where he may be regarded as "safe"? The liquor men cannot do otherwise than give support to Thompson. A vote for Hoskins would mean an endorsement of the principles and policies of the late Governor Pattison, principles and politics which the liquor men regard as a menace to their business. Further more, the liquor men have allied themselves with the republican bosses in opposition to home rule. They have not sufficient confidence in the people to trust them with the regulation of their own affairs, but prefer that government should be administered by political combinations under the captaincy of such men as G.

B. Cox.
Thus the line-up of the voters this year will be the same as that of last year—with the liquor interests giving support to the boss-controlled republican party, and all believers in the principles of government as exemplified by the late John M. Pattisson, working zealously in behalf of the democracy.—Columbus Press.
FROM THE COMMONER.
Pittsburg scandals have not been numerously mentioned in the daily papers of late. They may have become too numerous to be classed as real news.
Novelist Churchill "lost out in", his political game, but he doubtless has plenty of material for a political novel under the title of "The Cow-catcher." In the multiplicity of endorsement given by the Ohio republican convention, why was the erstwhile lieutenant of Dick and Foraker, "Boss" Cox, overlooked?
The papers are talking about a Philadelphia man who has been asleep for eight days. What excellent material for director of a Philadelphia bank and trust company.
Senator Long complains that Senator LaFollette violated "senatorial courtesy" in Kansas. Senatorial courtesy has been responsible for a lot of senatorial corruption.
The republican managers are frightened. They show indications of revising their campaign cry of "stand by Roosevelt" and making it "Remember the Maine—election!"
It seems that Senator LaFollette violated the rules of senatorial courtesy by going down into Kansas and telling the people how Senator Long voted on a lot of important questions.
Ohio republicans performed the feat of endorsing the president and the two Ohio senators, an acrobatic stunt that ought to draw a big bunch of money on the vaudeville circuit.
"Don you want to annex Cuba?" is a question being discussed in various newspapers. The answer depends on whether the tobacco and sugar trusts will profit by annexation than by independence.
Republican "harmony" is illustrated by the refusal of the republican nominee for governor to make the race in Colorado. For brilliancy of republican prospects in Colorado is also evidenced by the refusal.
With democratic majorities increased in democratic states and republican majorities decreased in republican states, the outlook for the beneficiaries of the "stand pat" theory is not so bright as it might be.
"It would be a sorry day if labor should be entirely ignored by capital," says the Cedar Rapids Gazette. Doubtless that is true but not nearly so sorry if capital should undertake to get along without labor.
Between the returns from Maine and the returns from Arkansas the
g. o. p. leaders see the necessity of dropping the "dollar fund" plan and falling back on the well-tried and long established campaign of "let trying."

An Autocrat of The Poultry Farm

By Otto B. Sengs

Copyright, 1906, by O. B. Sengs

Josiah Preston always had been of a despondent disposition, but his natural tendency to this direction seemed to strengthen after his remunerative experiments in poultry raising.

Josiah's mind apparently held but one thought—his hens. The earth was made for the sole purpose of providing them with a scratching ground. The sun rose to give them light and warmth; night followed day that they might have time to rest.

When Flower Preston, Josiah's only daughter, came home from boarding school, and her father discovered by diligent questioning that the words incubator, brooder, trap nest, bone cutter, etc., were not unfamiliar to her, he greeted her with a look of surprise.

"You must learn about things as soon as you can, dear," whispered the mother nervously. "If you can't talk poultry talk with your pa you might just as well be in the desert of Sahara."

"There's one comfort," continued Josiah, "I ain't raised the only fool there is in this country."

"There, there, pa," Mrs. Preston spoke soothingly. "What is the matter?"

"Squire Curtis' boy got home from college 'tother day, and what do you think, instid of studyin' law so's to help his pa, he's been studyin' bugs. Four years in college, and don't know a thing but bugs!"

"Maybe his pa wanted him to," remarked Mrs. Preston pacifically.

"Wasn't," harshly, "I can't grow over Squire Curtis' nose. His boy don't know nothin' but bugs, and as near as I kin figger out, that gal don't know nothin' at all. The only advantage is it took her a year less to learn it."

When young Curtis began calling at the farm, which he did with suspicious promptness, Josiah's cup of misery was full.

"For the land's sake," he exclaimed testily to his wife, "can't you go in there and see?" Indicating with his thumb the room from which came the sound of young voices and laughter.

"You let that gal git boys, and bugs later that slim brats of hers and she won't be good for nothin'."

"There, there, pa, don't talk so loud. You didn't want my ma to come in and see when you used to come to see me."

Josiah's face purpled; he clutched at his collar band as if he were choking.

"You don't mean," he gasped.

Mrs. Preston nodded.

"Don't take it so hard, pa," she murmured soothingly. "Jim Curtis is one of the likeliest young men, and—"

"I could stand it better if 'twan't for the bugs," he moaned feebly. "If he didn't want to be a lawyer like his pa, why didn't he take up somethin' sensible than bugs? What good is a bug? Bugs—millions on 'em—couldn't hatch out one chicken!"

"He's studyin' bees now, pa, and they're good for honey," appeasingly; "he has ever so many lives—new-fangled ones—in his pa's back yard."

Josiah only groaned.

"And, pa, it's all arranged, only I said he'd have to be old fashioned enough to ask your consent, and Flower, like a good girl, said she'd never marry anybody without her pa's consent. That's a good deal nowadays, pa."

Perhaps it was because of Josiah's reputation for irascibility, perhaps because the young man felt that he could express himself more satisfactorily in writing, that his formal application for the consent of the autocrat reached Josiah by mail.

The old man read the letter several times, growling and grunting. When he rose there was a grim smile on his face and a look of determination in his keen gray eyes.

This was on Thursday. In the evening Mrs. Preston reminded him—"Aren't you going in to see Jim, pa?"

"Dunno's he's callin' on me," testily. "But you—his letter!"

"I ain't in no hurry to answer it. I'm makin' up my mind."

cently.

"Jim Curtis! Don't you know that you must have a hen that wants to sit? You can't make one hatch egg if she doesn't want to."

"Well, I can buy an incubator," unflinchingly.

"You'd be four or five days late by the time you could order one and have it shipped here. And tomorrow is Sunday. Oh," she cried understandingly, "pa had it all planned—that's the reason he wouldn't see you until tonight."

"I know, Flower," with sudden inspiration, "I'll make an incubator. Come out and show me one of your father's, so I may get an idea of the principles involved. Come!"

Slightly encouraged, Flower led the way. Meeting her father, she asked coolly: "Have you any objections to my showing the incubator to Jim, pa? He's going to make one to hatch those eggs."

Preston grinned.

"No objections. Not in the least. Go ahead! Show him all about 'em, and tell him everything you know. 'Twon't burden his brain none. He might put the eggs into cold storage while he builds the incubator."

On Tuesday of the third week the autocrat remarked sarcastically: "I saw Jim this morning. Flower, I told him if he brought the chickens I'd announce the engagement in the county paper. An' give you $300 for weddin' fenderols."

Flower set her red lips in a firm, straight line. She had not inherited all her characteristics from her subservient mother.

"Lend me your pencil, pa. I want to make out a list of wedding fenderols."

Saturday evening came, but Mr. Curtis did not appear.

"Where's the bug professor, Flower?" asked her father tauntingly.

"He's grappin' the chickens up in cotton so they can't take cold," retorted Flower spiritedly.

The old man smiled grimly, but the smile died away as Curtis entered the room.

"I'm a little late, Mr. Preston," he said cheerily, "but here are your birds."

He handed the autocrat a flat wooden box, which the latter opened with trembling fingers. He removed a sheet of cotton, displaying a number of fluffy, sleepy, peeping chickens.

"There are eighteen," remarked Jim carelessly, "four more than you asked for, but I put them all in for good measure."

"Them chicks didn't come out'n the shell today," he declared with conviction.

"No," answered Jim quietly. "They came out Thursday."

Josiah gazed at him in actual consternation.

"I hope, Mr. Preston," courteously—"I hope there is no doubt in your mind that these chicks came from the eggs you gave me?"

Josiah shook his head mournfully.

"No," he said slowly. "They're all right. I know the strain."

He sat in silence pondering over the mystery.

"How doth the little busy bee improve each shining hour," suggested Curtis, smiling. "Bugs are good for many things, Mr. Preston."

The autocrat sprang up excitedly.

"Jumpin' gingerbread!" he exclaimed. "I'll bet a dime you hatched them eggs out in the beehive!"

Jim laughed pleasantly.

"I surely did, Mr. Preston. When Flower showed me the incubators three weeks ago tonight, I observed that the temperature was similar to that in my beehives. I verified this on reaching home by placing a thermometer in a hive. So I put the eggs in the upper section of the hive, separating them from the working apartments of the bees by a cotton cloth. I was positive they would hatch, but you may imagine my surprise when they began chipping the shell in nineteen days."

"I guess I'll put 'em in a brooder," said Josiah, recovering himself somewhat. "These chicks has cost me $300—too expensive to be allowed up dissipation at this time in the night."

A WISE FARMER.
An Oklahoma paper tells this one. Some few days ago two Oklahoma City real estate men had a German farmer in tow and carted him into the country to see a farm which has considerable low land and where overflows are frequent. They passed a barn where the high water mark was about eight feet above the ground.

"And what is that?" inquired the farmer.

One of the real estate men, who is ever ready with an answer, looked up at the water mark and said:

"That's nothing. It's where the hogs have been brushing up against the barn."

They drove on in silence, when suddenly the farmer broke the atmosphere by saying:

"I do not want the farm, but will buy all the hogs like that you can possibly scare up."

The Average Man.
"The average man when he is a boy," a trifle involuntarily imitated the old codger, decides that when he grows up he will be a drum major or a bandit, triumphantly survive battles, shipwrecks and holocausts and gallantly protect innocence and beauty in distress. But the average boy when he becomes a man finds himself so busy satisfying the appetite of the always hungry mortgage, endeavoring to believe but never attaining the endowment of being the head of his own household, chasing at the earnest solicitation of his many friends the political prominence which forever eludes him, selecting the particular brand of health food that will injure him the least, running after or away from something or other, getting off a few well chosen words, trying to collect or evade that which is justly coming to him, placating his wife's relatives, accumulating baldness, pointing with pride or viewing with alarm, and so on and so forth, that before he has time to be anything more prominent than one of the ciphers of the millions that inhabit this land of the free his men friends are walking slow behind him and saying that Bill was a pretty good fellow, but—and his women friends are chastely wondering how soon the widow will marry again. That's all there is to the average man."—Puck.

One Word's Meaning.
English is a most remarkable language. It has some peculiarities of an extraordinarily rich vocabulary and others of the poorest and most barren tongue, separate words for minute distinctions and single words that have many meanings. Many examples of both peculiarities can be found in the Dialect Dictionary, an English publication. Every farmer's boy knows how to use the words lamb, sheep, ewe and ram, but how many of them would be able to define the words tag, tup-hog, teaser, tup-seg, tup-yeld and six tooth, each of which fixes the age or the sex of a sheep? For example, a tup-hog is a young ram before the first shearing. On the other hand, take the word rack. As used by people in one part of England or another it may mean a neck of mutton, the bones of a dead horse, a blow, a sharp pain, a kitchen fireplace, part of a hand loom, a reach in a river, a ford, a pathway, a rant, a gap in a hedge, a flying cloud, to pour off liquor, to stack. These are the unusual meanings, and there are others more common.—Youth's Companion.

The Dime.
That neat and lovable little coin, the dime, has had a most useful history. As far as we are aware, it is unique among the world's coins, having no peer or equivalent than the English shilling, which is worth 2 cents more. It is one of the handiest of coins, being about as small as a silver piece can conveniently be. Being less in size and weight than the nickel, which is worth only half as much, it is vastly more convenient to keep and hoard, and that is one reason why it is becoming extraordinarily scarce in spite of the fact that more dimes are now turned out of the mints than ever before in the country's history. There is a rage for "dime banks," and some of these mechanical contrivances are so pretty, so ingenious and so alluring that they force people to save dimes who have no earthly occasion to do so.—New York Mail.

The Great Lake Cities.
Chicago, Cleveland, Buffalo, Detroit and Milwaukee, with Duluth and Superior thrown in at the head of the greatest lake and many thriving ports on Lake Erie, are a unique section of the urban life of America. Their rate of growth is the highest maintained in any group of cities. Their death rate is phenomenally low. Their proportion of home owners is extraordinary. Their totals and gains in savings bank deposits are almost unparalleled. They are handsome cities as a group, full of enterprise and activity, fairly eloquent with the spirit of prosperity and progress.—Cleveland Leader.

Getting Licked For Principle.
Meeting a newsboy whose face was scarred with scratches and looked like a map of some great railroad center, a reporter asked the youngster what the matter was. "Feller spoke disrespectful of my sister; said he'd bet she was cross eyed, and I sailed in."

"Is your sister cross eyed?" asked the reporter.

"Hain't got no sister," was the reply. "It was the principle of the thing what I got licked for."—Philadelphia North American.

Literary.
The new office boy was found sitting in his chair, with the telephone transmitter in his lap.

"What in the world are you doing?" asked the boss.

"A fellow called up a little while ago," replied the future head of the firm, "and told me to hold the phone till he called again."—Lippincott's Magazine.

Trade's Sensitiveness.
German goods go where British goods might, but do not. Here is a case. The Russian joiner, not being a meat eater, has not much muscle and cannot use a heavy hammer. So he buys and uses the German light hammer made for him, while he has no use for the heavier one of English make.—London Post.

Tough.
"If I catch your dog eating any of my chickens I'll shoot him," said the old gentleman who keeps a henhouse angrily to his neighbor.

"I don't care," said his neighbor. "If he eats one of your chickens it won't be necessary for you to shoot him."

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

Now that the membership contest at the Y. M. C. A. headquarters has but a few more days to run, signs of great activity are apparent on all hands. The "whites" who have held first place throughout nearly the entire contest are still in the lead by two members, the "blues" taking the second position. The "reds" foot the list, having but one member less than the blues to their credit.

Several surprises are promised ere the finish of the contest is reached, however, and any one of the three competitors are liable to make the discovery some fine morning that their position is entirely reversed.

A large number of prospective members have held off until the last minute. To these we must say "get in." Now is the time for any young man to join the Y. M. C. A. Delay will avail him nothing, while, on the other hand, he can never realize how many benefits he has been missing until he becomes a member.

Elaborate plans are being made for the banquet which is scheduled for October 26th. On that occasion the new members will be the especial guests. To the side who has won the membership contest special favors will be shown. The men second in plain tables without table cloths or napkins, while the last in this same competition will take theirs "camp fashion." This feature is expected to furnish no little spirit to the occasion.

For the program after the banquet several treats are promised. Prof. John Davidson, superintendent of the Lima city schools will be the genial toast-master while the Rev. Dr. T. H. Campbell, the new pastor of Trinity M. E. church, will give a short address. Mr. Campbell may be relied upon to furnish the thing most needed to make the banquet a success. Following Mr. Campbell, two representatives from each of the competing sides will give three minute talks each on the success or failure of their side. While it will no doubt be an easy matter to explain victory, more difficulty will be experienced in furnishing a satisfactory reason for defeat.

Another very interesting feature of the banquet will be the musical program to be rendered by the Association orchestra. This organization has been hard at work for some weeks and on their first appearance at the banquet may be depended upon to furnish some agreeable surprises.

Human Blood Marks.
A tale of horror was told by marks of human blood in the home of J. W. Williams, a well known merchant of Rac, Ky. He writes: "Twenty years ago I had severe hemorrhages of the lungs, and was near death when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. It completely cured me and I have remained well ever since." It cures Hemorrhages, Chronic Coughs, Settled Colds and Bronchitis, and is the only known cure for Weak Lungs. Every bottle guaranteed by H. F. Vorkamp, druggist. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

The Result.
There wasn't any tug of war. But two banana carts were upset and scattered their contents in the mud, to the accompaniment of much loud and variegated Hellenic profanity.—Chicago Tribune.

They Stand Alone.

Standing out in bold relief, all alone, and as a conspicuous example of open, frank and honest dealing with the sick and afflicted, are Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, over-acid, debilitated, nervous, "run-down," pain-racked women, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous remedy for weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness, all catarrhal affections whether of the stomach, bowels, kidneys, bladder, nasal passages, throat, bronchitis, or other mucous passages, also as an effective remedy for all diseases arising from thin, watery or impure blood, as scrofulous and skin affections.

Each bottle of the above medicines bears upon its wrapper a badge of honesty in the full list of ingredients composing it—printed in plain English. This frank and open publicity places these medicines in a class all by themselves, and is the best guaranty of their merits. They cannot be classed as patent or secret medicines for they are neither—being of known composition.

Dr. Pierce feels that he can afford to take the afflicted into his full confidence and lay all the ingredients of his medicines freely before them because these ingredients are such as are essential and most generally needed by scores of the most eminent medical writers as cures for the diseases for which these medicines are recommended. Therefore, the afflicted do not have to rely alone upon Dr. Pierce's recommendation as to the curative value of his medicines for certain easily recognized diseases.

A glance at the printed formula on each bottle will show that no acid and no harmful or habit-forming drugs enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines, they being wholly compounded of glyceric extracts of the roots of native American forest plants. These are best and safest for the cure of most lingering, chronic diseases. Dr. R. V. Pierce can be consulted free, by addressing him at Buffalo, N. Y., and all communications are regarded as sacredly confidential.

It is as easy to be well as ill—and much more comfortable. Constipation is the cause of many forms of illness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two mild cathartics. All dealers in medicines sell them.

can spectators will see it throughout this theatrical season reproduced by Lyman H. Howe.

Rehearsals of the first programme of the Boston Symphony Orchestra began in Symphony Hall under Dr. Karl Muck last Monday, Oct. 8th, and the first public rehearsal and concert took place on Friday afternoon and Saturday evening respectively. Dr. Muck's introductory programme was Beethoven's Symphony in C minor No. 5, Wagner's "A Faust Overture," Wagner's "Siegfried Idyll" and his Prelude to "The Mastersingers of Nuremberg." Interest in the Orchestra in Boston is greater this year than it has ever been before, this having been proved in a substantial manner by the receipts from the Auction sales for the season. The conviction steadily grows that in securing Dr. Muck, the Boston Symphony Orchestra has brought to this country a man of all men fitted to be at its head.

CHARLES MAGOON

CUBA'S GOVERNOR.

By Associated Press.

Havana, Oct. 13.—Chas. E. Magoon assumed the governorship of Cuba today succeeding War Secretary Taft and issued a proclamation. Governor Magoon said:

"The policy declared and the assurances given by Secretary Taft will be strictly adhered to and carried out."

Having completed the task for which they were sent to Cuba, War Secretary Taft and Assistant Secretary of State Bacon will start on their return to the United States this afternoon.

Simply a Paragraph.

Havana, Oct. 13.—Without any formality excepting the issuing of an extraordinary copy of the Gazette, the government of Cuba was transferred at noon today by War Secretary Taft to Chas. E. Magoon. Mr. Taft's contribution to the Gazette was simply a paragraph stating that "by direction and with the authority of the president of the United States I hereby lay down the office of provisional governor of Cuba, assumed by me August 29th, and turn the same over to Chas. E. Magoon, my successor."

Governor Magoon issued a proclamation in assuming the government of Cuba, which differed from Secretary Taft's in referring definitely to the Platt amendment as the authority for the United States intervention and for all control exercised in the island.

TRACK NOTES.

Refuse Switchmen's Demands.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 12.—The general managers of all the Chicago railroads decided at a meeting held this afternoon not to yield to the demands for shorter hours and more pay made by the switchmen on September 25. Daniel G. Smith, heading the Central Committee of the Switchmen's Union of North America, was notified of the manager's action.

If no agreement can be reached by the companies and their employees, 22,000 switchmen on roads between Buffalo and the Pacific Coast will strike, according to Samuel E. Heberling, first vice president of the union. The men ask 43 cents an hour for foremen and 38 cents an hour for helpers, and if secured will be the second raise of pay for the switchmen in 20 years. They also ask an eight-hour day, the average "time" now being 12 to 14 hours.

Vice President Heberling says the action of the switchmen has been made necessary by changed conditions, which make it almost impossible for them to live on their present wages.

Going After the "Leeches."

Chicago, Oct. 12.—An effort will be made at the meeting of the American Railway Association, which will begin in Chicago on October 24, to put railway "leeches" out of business, and to impose such heavy penalties on "car thieves" as to make them quit their evil ways. A "car thief" is a railroad which gets possession of cars belonging to other roads, runs them away and uses them for its own purposes. A "railway leech" is a road which persistently refuses to purchase equipment and depends for handling its traffic upon securing enough cars from other lines at a per diem rate unprofitable to the owners. All roads are liable to turn car thieves at a season of traffic congestion such as the present.

At present each road is charged 25 cents a day for the first 30 days, during which it uses a freight car belonging to another line. Experience has shown that this per diem is unprofitable for the road owning the car, and is insufficient to hasten its return by a line which may be making $4 or $5 a day upon it.

The roads which have been depending upon others to provide them with equipment are expected to fight the proposed changes, but enough lines have signified that they favor them to indicate they will be adopted.

Must Pay Servants' Fare.

Decisions have just been reached by many of the railroads that after January 1 of next year, when the anti-pass provision of the new rate law becomes effective, all officials must pay full fare for domestic servants who accompany them or their families when traveling.

While the question was being discussed by Pennsylvania railroad officials and attorneys, it was suggested that a servant was a member of a railroad official's family and that as such should be entitled to a pass, especially a nurse who had charge of small children. It was ruled, however, that servants are not dependent members of railroad men's families, but are luxuries.

General Manager Hepburn and Superintendent Benham, of the Lima & Toledo Traction company have been in Indiana the past two days in company with President, W. Kesley Schoepf, and President J. B. Foraker, Jr., of the syndicate and Indiana, Columbus & Eastern.

Damage Suits Echo Wreck.

From indications the Western Ohio railway company will soon have two damage suits on its hands as a result of the wreck at Oridersville, on the evening of August 20th, when Motorman John Clapper lost his life. Henry Koch has been appointed administrator of the estate of Otto Koch, one of the victims of the accident, and will force a claim for damages against the company. Ira F. Rhynard was killed while walking on the street in Oridersville, and her death will be the means of another damage suit which will be instituted by an administratrix, Maggie Stahl.—Wapak News.

PLUMBERS' TRUST ENTERS PLEA OF NOT GUILTY.

First Test Case for November 2nd.

Bridge Trust is Also Down For Trial During the Holidays.

OTHER STATE CASES Assigned by the Court for Early Hearings This Term.

The alleged Plumbers Trust formally entered a plea of not guilty today and the first test case is set for November 2nd.

Judge Cunningham today resumed the calling of the criminal docket, Prosecutor Welty being ready for work.

Two very important assignments were made. The first of truly legal import is that against the alleged Plumbers Trust in this city.

The Lima Plumbing & Heating company, a corporation which stand the brunt of the first fire from the state's guns. This company through its attorney's, Motter, Mackenzie & Weadock formally entered a plea of not guilty to the indictment charged "conspiracy against trade."

On its plea, the date of trial was agreed upon between the state's attorney and its representatives for the earliest possible day open on the calendar of the court. The case was set down for November 2nd. This will be the test case on which the fate of the other indictments must hang, similar as was the case of Harry Hammond, relative to the Bridge Trust.

This latter trust was not omitted and forgotten at this term of court, all of the indicted having entered pleas of not guilty some months ago. As a consequence the indictment in joint language against R. W. Huston and others will be tried holiday week—commencing December 26th.

In this case are involved Messrs R. W. Huston, N. V. Elliott, A. C. Lowe, F. P. Hampshire, J. J. Swigart, representing respectively the Canton Bridge company, the Bellefontaine Bridge company; the Mt. Vernon Bridge & Iron company; the Champion Bridge company, of Cleveland; the Massillon Bridge company and Huston & Cleveland, a partnership, of Columbus.

Other Criminal Cases. Other criminal cases were assigned today as follows:

The State vs. W. L. McKinley, indicted on charges of abandonment of minor children, not guilty plea entered; Attorney H. O. Bentley to defend; set for trial, November 5th.

The State vs. C. E. and Jessie Blackburn, of Beavertown; indicted for burglary and larceny; not guilty entered; bond given and trial set for November 6th. T. R. Hamilton to defend.

NEW AUDITOR MONDAY Prof. E. C. Akerman will Take Over the County Office.

On Monday morning bright and early, Auditor George Feltz will turn over the keys of his office which he has handled for the past six years and Prof. E. C. Akerman, of Bluffton, elected last fall, will accept this county trust. Mr. Akerman has named Mr. Douglass, of Bath township, as his chief deputy, and on the same date Mr. Harry Lamberton, who has been first deputy under Mr. Feltz will become clerk of the board of county commissioners.

Probate Matters. George E. Furry was today named as guardian of Donald F. Williams, a minor.

Henry S. Call has been appointed administrator of the estate of Dana C. Call, deceased.

Call of the Docket. Judge Cunningham began the third call of the civil docket for this term of court this afternoon, and will as the indicted having entered pleas of not guilty some months ago.

As a consequence the indictment in joint language against R. W. Huston and others will be tried holiday week—commencing December 26th.

PREMIUM LIST Fools Up Almost Double in Value Over Last Year.

The premium awards of the Allen county fair society will reach almost double the value of that in former years. Because of this no accurate statement can as yet be made to the public. However, the association is believed to have made some money this year, including the $494 in improvements which they added to their stock pens this year.

Next season the first week in September may be claimed as Allen county's dates, with no other attractions in this section save alone the State Fair.

The dates of Van Wert and Allen counties will thus be exchanged, if the arrangement goes through. Putnam county lost heavily this year because of bad weather and Crawford county had an awful week just closed.

VETERAN FROM LIMA Robbed of Two Hundred Dollars by a Stranger at Fostoria.

ATTENDED A REUNION Fell in With a "Traveling" Man and Was "Short" When He Awoke.

A press dispatch from Fostoria says: "James Grubb of Lima, a veteran of the 18th O. V. I., who came to Fostoria to attend the reunion of his regiment became intimately acquainted with a person whom he describes as a traveling man in a local saloon last night. When his friends found him, the traveling man had disappeared and it was evident that Grubb was under the influence of something more than whisky.

"When Grubb awoke this morning, he remembered that he had had $200 in a vest pocket. It was gone."

THE IDLER. The death of Mrs. Anna Boerger, aged 67 years, is recorded at Delphos. The funeral will be held from St. Johns church Delphos, Monday morning.

Hon. W. B. Ritchie left at noon today in a company of high officials of the Grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, to attend the supreme lodge biennial which meets in sessions all of next week at New Orleans.

END OF THE TROUBLE

Between the Striking Machinists and Their Employers

Will in All Probability be Reached During the Coming Week.

By Associated Press. Washington, Oct. 13.—While the strike of the International Association of Machinists in the shops of the Southern railway has not been settled, the prospects for an adjustment of the differences between the men and the officials of the railway are brighter today than they have been for several days.

An alternative proposition was presented to the machinists either to return to work pending further negotiations or to remain on strike until the differences have been settled. Some of the employees voted to return to work.

President O'Connell, of the Association, requested a further conference between the officials of the railway and the strike committee this proposition was accepted by the officials of the Southern railway and the conference probably will be held either tomorrow or Monday.

It is regarded as likely that a final adjustment of the differences will be reported next week—an adjustment that will be satisfactory to both the railway and the strikers.

HEAVY RUN STARTED Because of Publication that the Bank Was in Difficulties.

Montreal, Oct. 12.—A heavy run on the Montreal branch of the Ontario bank, developed today, as a result of the publication yesterday of the fact that the bank was alleged to be in difficulties and that arrangements had been made by the Bank of Montreal to take over its business.

Depositors, however, were paid in full and R. N. King, local manager, said when asked for a statement on the situation, said:

"We opened this morning as usual and as you see, we are doing a big business. I have no instructions from Toronto other than to continue business as usual and we shall pay our depositors whatever they demand until they are perfectly satisfied."

Run On Ontario Bank. Toronto, Oct. 13.—There was a slight run today on the Ontario bank which kept up until the bank closed at noon. There was no disorder however.

reach quite to the hem of the long-most becoming is correct.

Fur trimmings are scheduled to appear on both cloth and velvet gowns across models for evening wear in which white satin and sables, pale pink and heaver, brown spangles and pink are cleverly contrasted, the heavy fur making the gown, the wearer, the entire mise en scene in which it is worn take on an aspect of added luxury and extravagance.

In the resurrection of the rever as a corsage accessory there opens up a field for elaboration that the clever trimmer is not going to overlook. All sorts of trimming schemes are possible on those whether they be used singly or in overlapping sets. Embroideries, encrustations, lace appliques insertions, edgings and platings all find adequate application on the rever, while as for the vest or waistcoat it may be as simply severe, or as elaborately extravagant as the designer chooses to make it.
Buttons and buckles form another item of expense that cannot well be avoided. All sorts of extravagances are possible here, from the plain horn button that decorates the tailor-made up to the elaborately cut and jeweled one that appears on the smart dinner or bridge coat. The artist metal worker—and this is a field of design which many women have taken up and found exceedingly profitable—displays the most fetching effects, and where cost is not a consideration some beautiful results can be achieved in their use on coat or gown.

Beaded buttons displaying Dresden designs wrought out in natural colorings and the thickest beads are a smart fad of the moment and they seem equally appropriate upon almost any fabric.

FASHION AND THE FURRIER.

Costly Russian Sables.
The alluring art of the furrier that lets no scrap of a costly fur go to waste makes a modish use of the sable skins, as depicted in the illustration. Here there are six full skins of this little animal cleverly mounted to flat scarf shape, the skins not their natural roundness. It requires six full skins to make this design, and when one considers that a thousand dollars for a single fine skin is not by any means a record price, the value of a smart set in sables can readily be reckoned. The little heads and tails are used compactly, and even the little paws with their curved claws like a kitten's hang either side of the head and tail.
The muff is of the flat pouch shape, narrow at the top to widen somewhat toward the bottom, where a fringe of alternate tails and paws forms an effective finish.

The accompanying chapeau depicts one of the broad-brimmed styles of the Directoire period. The high crown is ensheathed in a soft chiffon of the moire silk, and the brim curves artistically at the side, with a wealth of white plumes nodding over the edge. Just a mere suspicion of a bandeau is used at the left side, and
the shape conforms more to the size
have done.
In Velveteen and Ostrich.
A clever blending of styles is effected in this delightful costume, in which a mordant, or rather a maroon, brown velveteen is contrasted with pale broadcloth and a somewhat deeper shade of satin. The skirt is built up in a simulated princess style to the bust line, where it meets a yoke of elaborate Chiny lace, fancy stitches and chiffon. Over this is posed a short-waisted little bolero that stands well out from the figure, and by its fullness emphasizes the slenderness of the waistline that it barely discloses. The fit at the waist and above and below it is effected in the use of pleats, the material being folded on itself to achieve the right curve and then cut away beneath, so that there is neither bulk nor clumsiness to prove undesirable. The little flat sailor shape, while by no means new, is still retained by those to whom it has invariably proven coming; and it is brought up to date in the clever fashion in which the plumes are adjusted to cover the back and fall gracefully on the hair.

One of those novel fish-shaped pieces of fluffy ostrich in the palest shade of blue accompanied the costume, adding a touch of elegance to a gown already daintily elaborate.
Only the longest and the fullest lines of the Directoire period. The high
crown is ensheathed in a soft chiffon
of the moire silk, and the brim curves
artistically at the side, with a wealth
of white plumes nodding over the
bandeau is used at the left side, and
the shape conforms more to the size
have done.

A charming set is that illustrated in which chapeau, scarf and muff are all in suite. The hat is moderate in size, with a drum-shaped crown, and a brim that rises becomingly at one side. A froth of white mallette is posed on the inevitable bandeau under the brim and the foamy white feather ends in a touch of pale blue at the tip. The scarf has a shaped pickpiece that sets flatly on the shoulders, ending in seeming loops that are decorated with cord passementeries. To this two pendant straight pieces are attached that hang below the waist line. The muff is one of the latest shapes, with a smart down curve in the center top, and a clever manchon or cuff effect at the sides.
This shape was especially invented to meet the requirements of the short sleeves and long gloves fad, and sets well up on the arms, making up for the lack of warmth that absence of a sleeve presents.

IN ROYAL ERMINE.

Last season it was the snowy white ermine that was demanded of the furriers, but so skilfully was that imitated in the cheapest kind of pelts that nowadays Dame Fashion demands the ermine that shows a slightly yellowish cast throughout, thus making a virtue of what was formerly considered a blemish. A right royal set is that pictured herewith. The long stole is narrowed at the neck portion, so that it sets well around the throat without any clumsiness or undue thickness, and below that point it broadens gradually to the waistline, where whole skins are applied flat and trimmed with a fringe of little paws and tails.

It really would seem as though the ermine might be likened to the cato-nine tails, for there certainly does seem to be an undue allowance of those effective little tails that start yellow at the base and deepen into black at the tip. One tall to one ermine seems to be all too little for fashion purposes, but since the furrier assures us that they are all genuine ermine tails there is nothing to do but agree with him. The muff shows that smart turnover effect that is one of the later novelties, paws and tails being alternated in proportion to their natural occurrence.

Fluffy Effects in Ostrich Feathers.
Fur and Marabout Cravats—Scarves—Stoles and Peterines to Meet Between-Season Needs—Fetching Little Muffs that Conceal Many a Convenience—Monochrome Effects and Clever Contrasts—Hats that Favor Later Modes—Feather Toques—The Fur Trimmed Felt—
And All-Fur Chapeaux are to be Highly Modish.

The toilette for the street whether for the carriage or the promenade, is not considered complete until some one or another of those fetching, flut-ty little nothings that the Parisienne terms her tour de con (really and literally "around the neck") has been carefully posed over the shoulders and the hands thrust carelessly into a frivolous-looking muff to match.

Some pretty little cravats are shown in this that follow the very same designs as the best furriers are putting forth in sable, mink and ermine. The characteristic four-in-hand knot is shaped and sown on permanently, and the other end of the scarf is slipped through this, a fancy pla serving to hold it fastened.
Marabout and ostrich make an especially effective combination. Sometimes one sees the ostrich flues fringed in at intervals in a marabout stole, making a fringed line across the width of it. Tassels of marabout are tipped with ostrich, and fluffy little balls of the former, strung on a silver cord, are much used as a finish.

One sees all of the delicate tints in four and five strand stoles that are charming to throw around the shoulders with an evening frock.
When heavy lace, such as Irish crochet, pointe d'aiguille, the Irish or the Russian guipures, is used between the strands an airy effect is attained that cannot fail to charm.

In furs, with the fad for light colors and delicate tints, there is bound to be much white fox, polar bear, ermine, chinchilla and the gray caracul used. In white there are some charming effects. Long stoles and peterines that are pointed almost to the waistline in the back, and cross over to the left side in the front, to find a fastening, and charming round boas, dotted with little made animal heads, are extremely modish for young folks. In white fox they are especially effective, the soft, long fur providing a beautiful frame for the face.

In ermine and chinchilla and the shorter-haired furs dainty to a degree are the designs that are already accepted for the coming season's wear.
There are high military collars, that clasp closely around the throat, with pendant jabotlike pieces that are trimmed with lace and tails. Like the little Directoire jabots that are described elsewhere on this page, they may be short, coming just but a few inches below the throat, or they may extend almost to the waistline.

But in either case there is a muff of the most fanciful order to match.

And in those same muffs there is a delightful variety to choose from, both as to size and style. There are flat, pouch-shaped affairs, adorned with bunches of velvet ribbon loops, caught with a smart buckle and tacked loosely to the front of the muff, either somewhat to one side or in the center. Others are down-curved in the center, to rise well at the sides, this shape meeting the fad for long gloves and short sleeves, the frill that finishes the sides being likewise so shaped that it runs well up on the arm. Those, too, display their quota of trimming, in which silk tassels, as well as little pendant balls of the fur, are often prominent.

The feather toque is just about as sure a visitor in the autumn as the Indian summer itself. They have many good qualities to commend them, those little toques and turbans, not the least of which is their compactness, their lightness, and, above all, the artistic colorings in which it is possible now to obtain them.

As a successor to the feather toque when the season wanes the fur hat will be in the ascendant. Fluffy little trimmings of ostrich and marabout will maintain prestige where the fur hat is concerned and velvet ribbon, shot and plisse chiffon and velvet flowers and foliage are used with a discriminating hand in the trimming of such as have already made their appearance.

CARE OF FURNITURE.

This is the season of the year when the thorough housewife will procure the best furniture oil that she can discover, and, with the bottle in one hand and a soft flannel cloth in the other, will carefully anoint each piece of furniture.
The tables, chairs, bookcases and the various other pieces have now endured four or five consecutive months of heat, and the rapidity with which they parched and thiry surfaces will drink in any emollient seems almost incredible.

This is especially true of any furniture that has been kept in one of our steamheated apartments, the temperature of which is invariably abnormally high and exceedingly dry. The effect of this superheated atmosphere seems to remove all the natural oils and saps from the woodwork, leaving it very brittle, with a decided tendency toward warping and splitting. Large pieces of furniture, where there are particularly sensitive to atmospheric conditions and soon show the results of this drying-out process.

Especially care should be given to any ancestral piece of mahogany, which may be saved from warping and splintering to rack and ruin by frequent applications of some good preparation, such as any reliable furniture dealer would recommend.

WISE LOVER.

"Did you bring the engagement ring, Henri?"
"Yes, I have it here. But fair and softly, Gwendolin. Before I place it upon the taper digit I must ask for sufficient security to cover its fair value."
"Security, Henri?"
"Aye, security. I have lost no less than three rings by being careless on this point. No security, Gwendy, no ring."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

JUST LIKE A SLEUTH

Governor Harris Wishes to Arrive at the State Institutions.

TO SEE FOR HIMSELF

Whether or Not Charges of Mismanagement Are Correct.

Columbus, O., Oct. 12.—Governor Harris will soon begin making official visits to the state institutions for the purpose of examination. He said today:
"I will not herald my coming but just drop in so as to catch them when they are not prepared for inspection.
I do not care to have the dining room especially trimmed for my coming nor do I want a band of music on hand." In regard to the reported examination of the state prison he said that he had given the matter no special attention yet. It had been reported that managers pass on bills without giving them careful attention, but the governor said he had not heard of it.
"They are paid salaries enough to give time and thought to the work," he said. It was suggested that the members drew $10 a day for one hundred days, whereas, as a matter of fact they do not put in more than fifty days there in a year. "I have heard it said," said the governor, "that some of them put in too much time at the prison." Speaking of the competitive board system of purchasing for the state institutions which he is now enforcing, he said that he was informed by the inspector that it is working well and he felt sure that it would save money for the state.
"But," he added, "it will be worth all the trouble it makes, if it only removes the suspicion of favoritism."

TEDDY FAILED TO GET THE ICE.

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., Oct. 12.—Somebody in Baltimore mailed a ten pound chunk of ice to President Roosevelt, and because the ice melted before it could be gotten out of the Baltimore postoffice, Postmaster Harris of that city has taken pains to send a formal of explanation to the executive office as to why only the empty package was received.
Many curious things have been mailed to President Roosevelt, but there is no record that any one ever before attempted to get a block of ice to him in that way.
In his letter to the White House Postmaster Harris explains that one of the collectors of mail found a package on top of a letter box. The collector was astonished to find that the package, which was addressed to President Roosevelt, contained about ten pounds of rapidly melting ice, and bore eight 1-cent stamps to forward it to Washington. The melting quickly brought the package within weight and made the 8 cents postage adequate. As no train was due to start for Washington at once, it was found impossible to get the ice out of the city before it melted.
All Postmaster Harris could do, therefore, he seriously states, was to send the empty package.

THE MARATHON MYSTERY, BY BURTON E. STEVENSON

The Marathon Mystery A Story of Manhattan By BURTON E. STEVENSON Author of "The Holiday Case" Copyright, 1904, by Henry Holt and Company

CHAPTER I. A SUDDEEN gust of wind wrenched the door from Godfrey's grasp and slammed it with a bang that echoed through the building. "Anything doing?" he asked as he stepped into the hall. "No, nothing," he added, his eyes gleaming suddenly with appreciation. "You were right about that Deane abduction case. It was all a faked-up story on the mother's part. She confessed this evening."

Godfrey twisted the janitor sharply around in the direction of the door. "Go ahead," he commanded, and pushed rather than led him out into the storm. They made a dash for it through the rain, which was still pouring in torrents. Halfway across the street they descried a cab standing at the farther curb and veered to the right to avoid it. "Here we are," said Higgins, running up a short flight of steps into a lighted vestibule. "It's in room fourteen—second floor."

CHAPTER II. SIMMONDS had dropped on one knee beside the body. He was up again in an instant. "No need for an ambulance," he said tersely. "He's dead."

CHAPTER III. "You have already given Mr. Simmonds a description of him?" "Yes, sir, as well as I could."

CHAPTER IV. "You would better let me judge of that; if it does not concern the police, I promise you it shall go no further."

CHAPTER V. "There are more heroines, a number of heroes, and you remember the man I called the 'patriarchal parson'—the woots are full of grandfathers exactly like him, it appears."

CHAPTER VI. "There is a parietic patient of mine, who overheard the speak of this party to his daughter today, and stole away from his attendant to come."

"Do me the favor to deny yourself to all others tonight!"

CHAPTER VII. "There are more heroes, a number of heroes, and you remember the man I called the 'patriarchal parson'—the woots are full of grandfathers exactly like him, it appears."

(To Be Continued) TAKE IT IN TIME.

Just as Scores of Lima People Have. Waiting doesn't pay. If you neglect the aching back, Urinary troubles, diabetes, surely follow.

CHAPTER VIII. "I wish we had never invited them," said John nervously. "We will have a row as sure as sparks fly upward."

CHAPTER IX. "The nine kinds of notes printed by the Bank of England are all on thin, white, crisp paper. The ink used is black, a hard, dry preparation, said to be made from naphtha smoke."

"Now, Miss Croydon, tell me quickly how it happened."
